I would like to thank ALYSSA for all she has done as our gallery director for the past two years. While running all of our gallery activities (classes, newsletters, openings, building management), she has also streamlined many of our operations.

I know that I enjoy the weekly emails of upcoming events. The Tiverton Art show was very successful in sales and publicity for RIWS. Our website is now always current. Integrating Paypal payments for many offerings has made life easier. Bottom line, we are in great shape for the next director to take over.

The board is actively looking for a new gallery director and ALYSSA will be here until June 21 in order to provide training. While ALYSSA will be missed, the transition to a new gallery director will be seamless to our members.

Be sure to stop by the gallery during our Small Picture Opening and Art Yard Sale on June 16 and wish Alyssa well...and get some art bargains!

Best of luck Alyssa in your future endeavors.

DIRECTOR'S REPORT

It is with a bittersweet heart that I have to announce my resignation as the Rhode Island Watercolor Societies Gallery Director. I have been offered another position for a company closer to home and I must do what is best for my family.

The past two years here at RIWS have been a wonderful experience. Working with this passionate membership and working with such a dedicated enthusiastic board has made my time here both rewarding and lots of fun.

We have put many hours of work to expedite the hanging and entry process, we have expanded our communications and publications using social media and our e-mail blast, and have used online calendars and news sources to get the word out about this wonderful hidden gallery and organization.

I truly hope RIWS stays on this ever expanding path and the artists associated with this society gain the exposure and notoriety they hope to have.

I wish both the society and all of the members the best in your painting future. I will be here at the gallery until June 21st and will aid in the transition with a new director once the time comes.

I thank you for all your support these last two years.

Sincerely Alyssa

Virtual Classes

RIWS is embarking on a new type of classroom, to bring our members and guest an opportunity to work with National and International

Watercolor Superstars

here at RIWS. We are working with well known artists to begin showing

instructional DVD's

and demos that will be aired here at the gallery for a low fee.

A facilitator will be available in the classroom to help you with questions and handle any problems with the projections.

Classes plan to be held at night, during the day and on the weekends to be available to all members of RIWS.

This is still in the planning stages and we need your help!

We are looking for a donated large screen TV to keep downstairs to play the DVDs during the classes. If you have a television you are willing to donate or get rid of that works well call the gallery. We can arrange to pick it up and get it here! Thank you for your help and stay tuned for further information about the Virtual Classes!

TEACHERS WANTED

RIWS is looking for teachers and teaching assistants interested in teaching children's art classes here at the RIWS.

This is a new intuitive for our gallery. We would like to start with children ages 9-12. Art class description and medium are open.

Teachers and Instructor must have prior experience working with children and must submit to a background check. We are looking to put together a complete schedule to run classes throughout July and August 2013.
